Capacitor C5 is an optional part. It was inserted on the DC701 to dampen the (possible) ringing voltage due to the use of long input leads. On a normal, typical PCB, with short traces, the capacitor is not needed.