Capacitor Cin1 is an optional part. It was inserted on the DC893A to dampen the (possible) ringing voltage due to the long input leads. On a normal, typical PCB, with short traces, the capacitor is not needed.

 The exposed pad is pin 15 and is connected to ground. It must be soldered to the PCB.